US Builders Review Names Redwood Painting Co. Best of the United States Honoree
A tribute to its success, local business recognized by national construction trade journal

PITTSBURG (August 10, 2016) – US Builders Review, a TrueLine Publishing-owned business-to-business trade journal striving to build strong connections within the many sectors of the U.S. construction industry, compiles an annual Best of the United States (BOTUS) list, which recognizes companies across the country. These companies commit their enterprises to success, satisfied employees, and superior projects and services.

One of US Builders Review’s most significant list toppers for 2016 includes Redwood Painting Co. The firm, founded in 1947, is a subcontractor in heavy industrial painting. Redwood Painting services clients in the Bay Area of Northern California and throughout the western United States.

Redwood Painting has won the PDCA Safety Award three years in a row and was named the 2014 and 2015 FCA Crest Award winner. Recent projects include repainting Pittsburg City Hall, PG&E gas pipelines lead abatement and corrosion work, and expansion of the San Francisco Hetch Hetchy water systems.

2016 BOTUS nominees will be recognized in a special edition of US Builders Review released in the fall.
